DMX Processing Unit Specification

The unit shall provide a means to manually override the DMX data stream.

The unit shall automatically hold the last look in the event of a DMX dropout.

The unit shall provide a mechanism for manually selecting three user-programmable lighting looks, by both front panel inputs and remote contact closures or voltages.

The unit shall be configurable as to the polarity of external inputs.